

BALFOUR EULOGIZES DAVID LLOYD GEORGE IN LONDON ADDRESS

Says He is One of the Greatest Figures in the World's History—Speaker Makes Powerful Plea for the Continuance of Coalition—Will Have Influence on Conservatives

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, March 7.—"He is one of the greatest figures of the world's history—what is the use of abusing him?" said Sir Arthur J. Balfour, alluding to the prime minister, David Lloyd George, in a speech here today. This speech, which was expected to give some clarity to the situation, threw no new light on the crisis, however, and Sir Arthur, like his Unionist colleagues, Austen Chamberlain and Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, far from reproaching Sir George Younger, the real provoker of the crisis, did not even mention his name.

Balfour made a powerful plea for continuance of the coalition system as opposed to a return to the two party system which, he declared, was unsuited to the present abnormal times, when the nation was still laboring under the aftermath of war. Never, he said, was there a time when the cooperation of the Unionists and Liberals was more desirable than now, adding that he had spent many years politically fighting Mr. Lloyd George and therefore ought to know something about him.

OPPOSE EFFORTS TO MAKE SINGLE STATE CONTRACTS

Mine Workers Executive Board so Notifies Farrington

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 7.—Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union miners, was advised today by the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America that it is "unilaterally opposed" to any efforts toward negotiating single state wage agreements with operators within the central competitive field, which comprises Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Mr. Farrington, who with other Illinois union officials meeting tomorrow at St. Louis will consider the proposal of Illinois operators for a single state agreement was asked to give an "immediate answer" to the board's telegram, which also requested Illinois officials to co-operate with the international union in bringing about a joint conference within the central competitive field.

"The duty we owe to the membership," said the board's telegram to Frank Farrington, "demands that the operators of the central competitive field be required to keep faith and to comply with the agreement they made in March 1920, to meet in an interstate conference prior to April 1, 1922, for the purpose of negotiating a new wage agreement."

Illinois, with Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania forms the central competitive field, the wage contract for which had been the basis of wages in their soft coal fields. After some operators had refused this year to continue interstate negotiations with the union, those of Illinois proposed a single state agreement and President John L. Lewis of the International Union advised a rejection of their offer, while Mr. Farrington, later indicated his possible acceptance.

With a strike vote being taken among the miners, the executive board of the union was called into session here today by Mr. Lewis to consider many problems arising in connection with the threatened walkout on April 1. The board's first important action was its stand by Mr. Lewis in opposing single state wage agreements.

APPROVE READING OF BIBLE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Con Con Delegates Make it Optional With Teachers

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 7.—Bible reading in the public schools was approved by the constitutional convention tonight.

On a roll call following a day of heated debate equal to the contest of 1920, the permissive clause was retained in the bill of rights, 52 to 8.

Adoption of the section was made possible when former Governor Joseph W. Fifer, of Bloomington, changed his vote to give the measure the required fifty-two votes after taking the floor twice during the debate to oppose the provision. By tonight's action teachers in the public schools will be permitted but not compelled to read the Bible to their pupils, without comment, if the proposed new constitution is approved by the people.

The first test on the issue came on a motion by delegate John E. Traeger of Chicago, to strike the clause from the bill of rights. The amendment was defeated when it received only sixteen votes to 44 against it.

Supporters of the Traeger amendment charged that the original section inserted to nullify a supreme court decision barring the Bible from the public schools violated the principles of religious freedom, invited discord in the schools, made it possible for the sectarian enthusiasts to inflict their creeds on unwilling minds and opened additional avenues for political issues.

Tells of Pilgrims.

"Before they left England the Pilgrims Fathers were for religious tolerance because they were in the minority," declared Delegate Fifer, "but when they reached Massachusetts they first fell upon their knees and then upon the aborigines. A man has a right to his own views. He may teach them in his home and in his church, but he has no right to force his religious convictions upon others."

During the debate Delegate Hamill of Chicago proposed to substitute the words "any good literature" for the word "Bible." Without comment he then read the thirty-fourth chapter of Genesis to the convention and sat down.

Sensing the inference, Delegate Southernland of Chicago, asked Mr. Hamill if he considered the "works of Shakespeare good literature."

The reply was affirmative.

"Would you consider that a teacher using discretion if she read to young children certain works of Shakespeare, for instance, Venus and Adonis?" Delegate Sutherland asked.

"No," Mr. Hamill replied, simply and resumed his seat.

His proposal was defeated.

By its action tonight the convention blasted the hopes of Henry Hooker Vanmeter, his "Bible league" and a provision compelling teachers to use the Bible as a text book in the public schools.

ALLEGED MEX BANDITS CROSS RIO GRANDE

(By The Associated Press)

The Mexicans stole three horses it is reported. The river is shallow there and easily fordable. The information here indicates no one was harmed. Campaign, where the bandits are said to have gone, is about 15 miles down the river from San Pedro.

MUSCLE SHOALS PROPOSAL GETS MORE TANGLED

Would Take Years to Thresh Out the Legal Questions
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Chairman Kahn of the house military committee today told W. B. Mayo, chief engineer for Henry Ford that it would require years to thresh out existing legal entanglements and it was doubtful even then that the government would be able to accept the Detroit manufacturer's proposed contract for purchase and lease of the nitrate and power projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

Other committee members said the legal barriers to acceptance of the Ford proposal appeared insurmountable because of the contracts held by the Alabama Power company and the air nitrates corporation, which those concerns claim, give them exclusive rights to purchase the Warrior Steam Plant and nitrate plant No. 2, respectively. Both units would be delivered to Mr. Ford with free titles if his proposal were accepted and could not be freed from the contract conditions without prolonged litigation in the courts. The discussion of the legal difficulties developed after Mr. Mayo and Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, had presented three alterations which they said Mr. Ford had agreed to make in his original offer for the shoals projects.

The first alteration provided for a fixed capitalization of not less than $10,000,000 for the company Mr. Ford would create to operate the Alabama enterprise. The amendment was suggested by Secretary Weeks to safeguard the government's interests against failure of the operating company to carry out the contract. Another amendment offered by Mr. Mayo guaranteed manufacture of commercial fertilizers, rather than nitrates, and "other compounds" while the third proposed to authorize the company's directing board to regulate the delivery of the fertilizers direct from factory to consumer.

These amendments were welcomed by the committee.

SENATOR BORAH CASTS FORTUNES WITH DEMOCRATS

Forms Alliance to Fight Four Power Pacific Treaty
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—After a preliminary lull, the senate fight over the four power Pacific Treaty will break in full fury. Senator Lodge, Massachusetts the Republican leader, will advise the senate tomorrow and will challenge opponents of the pact to bring their case openly to the senate floor. That an organized group of "irreconcilables" will range themselves on the other side was assured today when it became known that a definite plan of action had been agreed upon by Senator Borah, Republican Idaho and friends of former President Wilson. To what extent this understanding may involve the personal sentiments of Mr. Wilson himself is not revealed. Senator Borah and the former president are said to have consulted by letter regarding the four power pact.

Sen. Lodge's determination to take the offensive in the treaty debate followed a complete suspension of the discussion today.

Many are preparing addresses both for and against ratification however, and no one accepted the party leader's announcement as forecasting early action, but merely to force the issue.

Continuously Under Debate.

Since it came before the senate the treaty never has been continuously under debate for more than two hours and most of the discussion has gone forward with only a handful of senators in their places.

The first reply to the address of Senator Lodge is expected to follow it immediately Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, having planned to speak tomorrow in favor of two reservations proposed by him.

Senator Borah's understanding regarding the plan of campaign against the treaty is said to have followed a series of conferences and an exchange of letters between him and several men in and out of the senate and close to Mr. Wilson. One of these men is understood to be Bernard M. Baruch, of New York, and another Norman Davis, former under-secretary of state.

In these exchanges Mr. Borah is said to have received information which convinced him that Mr. Wilson and he, despite their differences over the league of nations, are in complete sympathy on many points involved in the four power treaty discussions.

RUSSIAN SOVIET AUTHORITIES FAIL TO PROVIDE CARS

Can't Furnish Number Promised to Haul Food Supplies
(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, March 7.—The Russian soviet authorities so far have failed to provide even half the number of cars promised for the transportation of American relief administration food supplies from the Black Sea ports of Novorossisk and from Windau on the Baltic Sea to the famine afflicted centers of the interior, according to reports received here by Walter Lyman Brown, European director of the American organization.

"Experience has shown that it takes two months for food to reach the ultimate consumers from the ports," Dr. Brown said today. "Russia will be harvesting her own crops in August so in order to be of the greatest good American supplies must reach the Russian ports by the end of May."

TRAIN LATE MINERS REFUSE TO WORK

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 7.—Twenty-six coal mines employing several thousand men south of here were closed today because of the refusal of employees to work on account of their train being delayed 25 minutes in reaching this city Monday evening.

Ten mines north of here were idle yesterday for a similar cause. The mines are served by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road.

The two days shutdown has caused a loss of coal production estimated at 50,000 tons and the loss in wages is estimated at $54,000 according to mine officials.

REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE AGREE ON COMPROMISE BILL

Soldiers' Bonus Measure Carrying Bank Loan Provision Instead of Cash Installment is Approved—Chairman Fordney Predicts Early Passage—Gives Immediate Relief

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—The compromise soldiers' bonus bill carrying a bank loan provision in place of the cash installment payment plan originally proposed and once approved by the house, was agreed to today by Republican members of the ways and means committee. It was introduced in the house by Chairman Fordney. Passage of the bill was predicted by Mr. Fordney and members of the house generally.

There was some speculation as to President Harding's views of the compromise plan. Chairman Fordney declined to say whether he had discussed the compromise with the executive. At the white house it was said that Mr. Harding had not formed an opinion as to bank loan provision.

Some of the majority members of the committee believe that since the new plan defers for three years a large drain on the federal treasury the president will not object to it. They said the compromise will enable needy veterans to obtain cash without imposing additional taxes on the public.

Just when the bill will be called up in the house will not be decided until Mr. Fordney returns from a trip west, on which he started today.

Mr. Fordney said the entire ways and means committee would meet Saturday when the Democrats would pass judgment on the bill. Meantime the measure will be printed so that house members generally can study it.

Aside from the bank loan provision the bill is very similar to that previously passed by the house. The only immediate cash payments proposed are to veterans whose adjusted service pay would not exceed $50. Others could select one of four options. Adjusted certificates, comprising a loan and insurance plan; vocational training; farm and home aid; land settlement.

It was estimated that the immediate cash payment to those entitled to not more than $50 each would be around $16,000,000. The final cost might range all the way from $1,000,000,000 to $4,750,000,000.

Will be Adjusted Oct. 1, 1922.

The adjusted service certificate would be dated October 1, 1922; would mature in 20 years, or at the death of the veteran and would have a face value equal to the sum of (1) the adjusted service credit of the veteran increased by 25 percent plus (2) interest thereon for 20 years at the rate of 4 1/2 percent compounded annually. The total amount would be approximately equal to 3,015 times the adjusted service credit of the veteran. This credit would be figured on the basis of $1.25 for each day of overseas service and $1 for each day of home service, but in no event could the credit exceed $500 in the case of a veteran who performed no overseas service and $625, in the case of a veteran who served overseas.

Prior to September 3, 1925, any national bank, or any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of any state, territory, possession, or the District of Columbia, would be authorized to loan to a veteran on the certificate any amount not above 50 percent of the adjusted service credit plus interest at 4 1/2 percent from Oct. 1, 1922. The loan would have to mature not later than September 30, 1925, and the rate of interest charged by the bank could not exceed by more than 2 percent a year the rate charged at the date of the loan for discharge of nine-day commercial paper by the federal reserve bank in the federal reserve district in which is located the bank making the advance to the veteran.

FARMERS ASKED FOR THEIR OPINIONS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Secretary Wallace thru letters to various interested organizations has laid before the grain trade proposed changes in the federal wheat grades with the request that an opinion be given by March 23, it was announced tonight. Final decision on any changes it was pointed out must be reached early in April if the marketing of the bulk of this year's crop is to be affected. As much as 90 days notice must be given of any changes in the present grades. The letters, it was said, summarized the opinion of two specialists outside the department who at the request of the secretary after a hearing here last year investigated the merits of complaints against the present wheat grades. The proposed changes, it was added, concern moisture content, foreign materials test weight per bushel and the classification of hard spring wheats. Certain changes in the wheat also have been suggested.

KENTUCKY MINERS MAY NOT STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 7.—Coal production in at least two Kentucky fields promises to continue even if a strike is called by the United Mine Workers of America.

Messages received here today from Madisonville, headquarters of District No. 23, said, inasmuch as operators held a contract with the Union in the larger part of the western Kentucky field, which does not expire until April 1, 1922 it would be the policy of the union to observe it.

Merely as an expression of opinion miners were voting it was said at district headquarters, heavily in favor of a general miners' strike.

ORGANIZATION IS PLANNED TO GET LOWER TAXES

Movement is Started by Mayor of Highland Park

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 7.—A statewide organization to work to obtain lower taxes was launched at a meeting here today at which Samuel M. Hastings, mayor of Highland Park, Illinois and director of the Illinois Manufacturers' association presided. Choice of a name and other details of organization were entrusted to a committee. Mr. Hastings urged co-operation with public officials in fighting extravagance in government, while other speakers urged that the public educate to realize that it must pay the taxes and that economies in government will benefit the public directly or indirectly.

William George of Aurora, Illinois, former president of the Illinois Bankers' association asserted that farmers that formerly paid a tax of $1 an acre on land now pay $2.50 an acre.

Herman H. Hettler, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association said extravagance in public administration and the complicated system of taxation were responsible for the high taxes.

George E. Frazer of Chicago urged that the organization be formed along non-partisan lines and that it include all the industrial, commercial, agricultural and consumer interests.

(By The Associated Press)

The object of conferences held with representatives of the employees it was announced was to determine the number of men to be employed on each press—a function taken away from the union by Judge Manton's arbitral decision and given to the newspaper publishers.

Judge Manton's decision laid down that a work day, whether by day or night, should consist of eight hours instead of six, the standard work day on the basis of which overtime pay was drawn formerly.

Will someone who is informed please rise and explain why Oscar Nelson of Kane county, is the unopposed candidate for Republican nomination for state treasurer. There is something very strange about the lack of aspirants for this very important office.

Allice Robertson, representative in congress from Oklahoma, said in a Kansas City address yesterday: "I used to think that not one woman in a hundred knew anything about politics, but experience has taught me that not one woman in a hundred knows anything about politics, so there you are." COMING FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
—Gloria Swanson "Under the Lash."

Practically every venieman examined in the Pires murder case has been asked as to his views with reference to capital punishment. Very few confessed to any conscientious scruples with reference to the death penalty. A similar showing has been made in selection of juries in other murder cases in Morgan county year after year. Nevertheless, the records of the county fail to show that the death penalty was ever inflicted as the penalty for a conviction in this county.

A very reasonable showing was made by attorneys for Governor Small in the application for a further delay of his trial. It was made very plain that just at this time the important business of the state would be interfered with if the trial was begun now. It is quite possible that the defendant and his attorneys had other reasons and did not feel that the progress of the trial should in any way prejudice the public in connection with the coming primary election. This may not be legal ground for postponement, but it is nevertheless an equitable reason in a case where admittedly politics has so large a part.

THE HOTEL AS AN ASSET.

A modern, new hotel is admittedly one of the great needs of Jacksonville. Such an enterprise would provide the best kind of advertising and bring hundreds of visitors to the city. The Chicago Tribune yesterday had this comment on the proposal to build a 3,000 room hotel on Michigan avenue at a cost of $15,000,000.

"The enterprise, we believe, will be of great value in maintaining and improving Chicago's position as the country's greatest convention center. Not only will it provide comfortable and convenient living quarters for many of the thousands of visitors brought here every month for conventions of various kinds but it will tend to attract more conventions and more visitors by its special provisions of adequate assembly rooms and dining rooms. Hotel accommodations are essential to a convention city; the more the better. Convention delegates bring money, stimulate trade, and carry the fame of Chicago to all parts of the country. Everything which can be done here to make their visits pleasant and profitable to them will be pleasant and profitable to the city. Superior hotel accommodations are an essential means to this end."

ture man of today who cannot read or write is indeed a touching figure. Twenty or thirty years ago conditions were different, but now with the requirements for at least a certain measure of education at public expense, the person who does not know the rudimentary things is conspicuous.

There is no better place than a court room to get a vision of what education means, and to vote something of the different degrees of education that have come from the school of experience and from educational systems. A court room, where a trial is in the preliminary stages and prospective jurors in large numbers appear from all parts of the surrounding county, presents a cosmopolitan group.

That is a place to study human nature, not alone among the active participants in the proceedings but among the hundreds of spectators as well. There you see people who have a morbid interest in such events. There are others brought in by mere curiosity. Still others are present because they are idlers with nothing better to do. Then there is the occasional person present because of a real desire to know the steps of court procedure.

Yes, the court room is a place to find a real mixture of humanity, to study faces and expressions, to note now and then, the pathos of the untrained mind.

A. A. CURRY BUYS CATTLE TO FEED

Well Known Stockman and Financier Will Get Two Hundred Head of White Face Cattle Ready for Market.

A. A. Curry has recently purchased from S. F. Boyd, of White Hall, 200 head of feeders. They are mostly white faced cattle and are to be delivered sometime during the first ten days of April.

Mr. Curry purchased these cattle at $6.50 per 100 lbs. One hundred head will be put on full feed for marketing two or three months later, and the other hundred will go on grass.

Mr. Curry has been watching the opportunity for several weeks for the purchase of cattle suited to his needs, and believes that he has made an excellent find. Thru the years Mr. Curry has been one of the most consistent cattle feeders in this county. It has been an unusual year that he has not had large numbers of both cattle and hogs on his big farm in Pisgah precinct. The marked success with which his cattle feeding and other business operations have been handled is a matter of common knowledge, and he has a reputation thruout central Illinois.

FORMER RESIDENT OF WHITE HALL IS DEAD

White Hall, March 7.—The death of Harvey A. Smith at Council Bluffs, Iowa, leaves but two members of the pioneer Smith family in this vicinity, whose first coming here dates back almost a hundred years. All are reputed for longevity. Harvey was 92 when he died, and surviving are 129 S. Smith, 85, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. A. M. Carey, 87, of Hollywood, Calif. Mrs. Sarah A. Higbee died in White Hall one year ago at the age of 98. Two other sisters buried at White Hall were, Mrs. Nathaniel Kendall and Mrs. T. O. Carr, both 85 at the time of their deaths. Mr. Smith left White Hall in 1880 and has since alternated his residence between Council Bluffs and California. A few months ago he dictated to a stenographer his impressions of the earlier history of White Hall that brought out some entirely new facts, one of which is that the parents of Senator Albert B. Cummings migrated from White Hall to Iowa. This dictation was transcribed at local expense, and is a most valuable chapter that will later be turned over for preservation in the proposed new library and historical building.

SOME ILLINOIS COLLEGE CLASSES

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois State Historical Society

The graduating classes of 1855 and 1850, at Illinois College, were the smallest; and those of 1880 and 1881 were the largest, up to the year 1881.

1835. The class of 1835 enjoyed the distinction of being the first to be graduated here, and it had certainly one of the most distinguished graduates of all.

Jonathan E. Spillman was the first name on the honored roll of Alumni of "the College on the Hill."

He was made a Doctor of Divinity by Central University (presumably of Kentucky).

The Commencement exercises of 1835 were held Sept. 16, 1835, forenoon and afternoon. This being the first occasion on which students were graduated. Mr. Spillman's subject was "Scepticism," with the Valedictory Address. This made Mr. Spillman the second speaker of his class, so Mr. Yates claimed that he was the first graduate—perhaps, also Yates received his diploma first. There were fourteen other speakers on the program.

Dr. Spillman was down in the catalogue as from Hillsborough, Illinois. He was a native of Kentucky.

His last appearance here was at the Commencement exercises of 1884. At that time he spoke at the Alumni banquet, in Whipple Academy. The second Governor Richard Yates also spoke that evening. Dr. Spillman was a Presbyterian minister, and lived to good old age, altho the writer of this cannot state the time of Mr. Spillman's death.

Richard Yates was born in Kentucky in 1815, and came to college here from Sangamon county, supposedly New Berlin.

It seems hardly necessary to give an extended notice of him here.

The College Alumni Catalogue makes the following record of Mr. Yates' career: "L. L. D., Beloit College; Representative, Illinois legislature; Representative in Congress, War Governor of Illinois; U. S. Senator; lawyer." It might have been added that he was the only Governor whose son and namesake was also Governor of Illinois.

Perhaps his most important act was commissioning U. S. Grant as Colonel of the 21st, Regiment, Illinois Volunteers. When another Grant's native state nor the government of the United States would notice his offer of service. As is well known, Jacksonville was Mr. Yates' residence. He died in St. Louis, Nov. 23, 1872.

1850. The class of this year consisted of William H. Collins and Edward Ruggles.

William H. Collins came here from Collinsville, his birth place. He was a member of Sigma Pi society. He became a Congregational minister, and was editor and proprietor of the Jacksonville Journal, beginning in 1859. He entered the Union Army as a Chaplain, in the 10th Regiment Illinois Volunteers; afterwards becoming a Captain and staff officer. He was a member of the Illinois Legislature and Mayor of Quincy. His business for his last years was manufacturing plows in Quincy. He was a man of fine mind and a fine writer. He died some fifteen years ago.

Edward Ruggles was graduated at A. B. and received the degree of A. M. He was a member of Sigma Pi Society. He became a Congregational minister but died quite young. He entered the Freshman class from Grand Detour, Ill.

Mr. Ruggles was a man of fine character and ability.

1880. The roll of the class of 1880 consisted of: "Butler, Elmer W. A. B. D., Chicago Theological Seminary, 1883; Phi Alpha; clergyman" at Thurbury, Ala., in 1912.

AMERICAN LEGION POST HELD BUSINESS SESSION

Members of the local American Legion post held a regular monthly business session Tuesday evening at their headquarters on the north side of the square. Among business matters given attention was the appointment of W. T. Harmon to serve on the athletic committee, and the appointment of Mr. Kehl on the post activities committee. Clarence Rataich was elected to serve on the executive committee.

The post is planning to have a country store at the auto show and a committee was named to arrange the details for this undertaking.

Among visitors present were: Mr. Wright, the commander of the Murrayville post, M. Barclay of Springfield; J. Chester Colton, of Woodson, and Mr. Brockman of Jerseyville, the latter being district athletic officer. Each of the visitors was called upon and made brief but inspiring talks.

After routine business had been transacted came a brief social time and the serving of ice cream and wafers.

MARKET REPORTS PROMISED
STRAWBERRY CLUB—This project is a possibility for any boy or girl in the county who will plant, care for, and keep a record of the production of his bed during the second season. The Dunlap variety will be used. These can be had for 60¢ per hundred for club purposes. Club members will be given full directions for caring for the plants.

Hembrough, and a check for $6.53 from the Farmers' Elevator at Woodson in payment for corn donated by C. C. Self & Son and Allan Russell. The time of shipment has been extended to April 1. Reports are not in from all elevators or precinct committeemen.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER—The Farm Bureau will have a meeting at the Farm Bureau office at 1 p. m. March 22 to hear W. P. Flint discuss the European corn borer, chinch bugs and scale insects. This rather early hour is scheduled in order to enable Mr. Flint to leave promptly at 2:30 p. m. This meeting will be of interest to every corn raiser and fruit grower in the county.

KANSAS CITY MARKETS
Kansas City Stock Yards, Mar. 7.—The cattle market continues firm. Receipts were the smallest of any Monday this year, and offerings were cared for readily. Fat steers, ruled higher, and stockers and feeders were steady. There was a fairly good demand for all classes. Texas and New Mexico marketing more than 100 steers now than they usually do at this season of the year and indications are that this movement will continue for the next few weeks. The advance in fat steers had added strength to the feeders position and they are taking a good many fleshy steers with quality for a short feed. There are a good many prospective buyers in the Southwest after aged steers for summer grazing, but very few sales have been reported thus far and the general opinion is that comparatively few cattle will be brought out of the Southwest to Kansas and Oklahoma grass.

Hogs declined 10 cents from the high point last week, but retained a top of $11.20. Receipts remained moderate here, except pigs and thin hogs suitable for feeding. They are in fully normal supply and sold at $9.50 to $10.75.

Prices for sheep and lambs broke 50 to 75 cents late last week and were stronger today. APT lambs are selling at $14.25 to $15.50. A good many 50 to 55 pound Texas feeding lambs are available at $12 to $14.75.

POSSIBILITY OF STRIKE DEPLORED

Washington, March 7.—Possibility of a strike April 1 in the anthracite coal regions was deplored today by Representative Newton, Republican, Minnesota, who declared on the floor of the house that a tie up would be a disastrous blow to industry generally.

Mr. Newton held that the operators and owners of coal mines were "almost together responsible for excessive costs."

Certain railroads carrying anthracite out of the Pennsylvania fields, he added, also had made tremendous profits as a result of "monopolistic privileges."

Government agencies have been unable, he declared, to obtain accurate information as to costs of producing and marketing coal and of profits made by those handling the commodity. It was the duty of congress Mr. Newton contended to provide some kind of a government agency to get accurate information about the coal industry, which, he added, is the "worst run basic industry today."

WESTERN ROADS OPEN FIGHT ON PRESENT SCALE

Wages for Similar Work are Generally Lower is Claim

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 7.—The western railroads opened their attack on the federal railroad labor board's present wage scale today in the nation-wide wage hearing by introducing industrial wage figures from 28 states in all of which, it was declared, wages for similar work were generally lower than railroad wages.

The lower wages asked, according to J. W. Higgins, representing the western roads are 50 to 100 percent higher than the wage scale of 1915 and 30 to 70 percent higher than 1917.

B. M. Jewell, president of the shop unions interrupted the hearing to charge nine roads that they were improperly before the board because they had delegated their shop work to contractors.

Mr. Jewell quizzed officials of the roads on whether they were asking reductions for the employees working for the contractors. All of them denied that their petitions covered other than the roads own employees.

The Erie Railway it was brought out had withdrawn its petition for lower wages for shop crafts at the last minute on March 4, just before the hearing started. All shop work on the Erie, Mr. Jewell claimed, has been let to contractors. Other roads named by Mr. Jewell and admitting that they had contracted shop work, were the Western Maryland; Chicago, Great Western; Pere Marquette; Bangor & Aroostook; Big Four; Michigan Central; New York Central and Indiana Harbor Belt. Officials of all declared none of the contractors employed on their roads were covered by their requests.

Individual exhibits covering 15 western states were presented by railroad representatives. The entire survey showed that of 318,892 employees in numerous industries, 77.73 percent were receiving lower wages in Dec. 1921, than the railroads are paying for similar work.

RURAL DISTRICTS MUST BUILD HOSPITALS

CHICAGO, March 7.—Rural districts will be obliged to build and equip hospital if they hope to obtain modern medical service, A. C. Eyckleshymer, dean of the University of Illinois College of Medicine of Chicago, told the association of American Medical Colleges convention here today.

"One of the most interesting sidelights on the cost of medical education is the comparatively large number of students who are earning nearly one-third of their total annual expense," said Dr. I. S. Cutter of the University of Nebraska.

"The general average shows that forty five per cent of all students replying from all schools are earning money."

Dr. Charles P. Emerson of Indiana University was elected president of the association. Other officers elected were: vice president, Dr. Irving S. Cutter, University of Nebraska; secretary, Dr. Fred C. Zapffe, Chicago; executive committee members, Dr. David L. Edsall, Harvard Medical College and Dr. John T. McClintock, Iowa State University.

Jumping the from Small frying pan into the Sullivan fire

Genuine 100% civil service in the State and County would save the people millions of dollars. Spoils is the first cousin of graft. The spoilsman who draws the fat salary is no better than the burglar who enters thru the window and dynamites the State Treasury to get away with the swag.

There never was a grafter who favored civil service. No, not one.

We will have genuine civil service if the secretary is selected by examination by the presidents of the five largest resident universities and all the authority of the Civil Service Commission is vested in the secretary so selected.

Both the Small and Sullivan machines are opposed to 100% genuine civil service. They fought the 40% civil service adopted in 1911.

Spoils and hope for spoils is the cement that keeps principle-less political machines together. With 100% genuine civil service in force, Sullivan could not rally enough workers to start a poker game.

Jacob Frisch, Sullivan's first choice, voted against civil service at every opportunity until the Wheeler bill came along. Frisch could not vote for this bill because he likes spoils, but not when it goes under control of the Small gang.

The Sullivan legislators and their allies put over the infamous Buck Amendment which took the heart out of civil service. Since that day ever State employee's job has been hanging on the thread of political whim.

Every sane man knows that if Small took Sullivan under his wing as the latter desired, and had the Governor not vetoed the appropriations which chopped off Sullivan's allies from the State payroll, harmony would have prevailed and there would have been no Waukegan trial.

Fortunately for the people, the grafters have fallen out.

If State's Attorney Mortimer, one of the Sullivan Big Six, desired to uphold the law he would have indicted the three Small Civil Service Commissioners. I still have the sworn record of five months' law breaking. But the Sullivan crowd wants civil service abolished and are grateful to the Small gang for doing the work and getting the blame for it.

I could have been drawing $5,000 a year in a no-work job if I had yielded to the bribe made to me to sign crooked payrolls when I was Secretary and Chief Examiner of the State Civil Service Commission. I preferred discharge and poverty.

My proven honesty has disqualified me for endorsement by the Sullivan and Small gangs. They know that I am opposed to spoils, and, if elected, I will work unceasingly for 100% genuine civil service.

And the Sullivan crowd knows also that if I am elected I will not stop with Small. All grafters and spoilsmen look alike to me.

Frisch and Rogers are the Sullivan spoils' candidates and neither one would ever dare vote for 100% genuine civil service.

To decline to vote for Moore—Small's candidate for State Representative—and vote for Frisch and Rogers, is jumping from the Small frying pan into the Sullivan fire.

I am ready to meet Frisch, Rogers and Moore face to face and discuss our candidacies from the same platform. Will they accept the challenge?

LABOR LEADER AGAIN FACES MURDER CHARGE

Thomas Walsh Goes on Trial After Legal Battle

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 7.—After a legal battle which brought his case before two courts simultaneously, Thomas Walsh, union labor leader, was placed on trial for second time today before Judge John J. Sullivan on a charge of murder. This was after Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, had obtained an order for a change of venue from Chief Justice Kiekham Scanlan of the criminal court, transferring the case from Judge Sullivan's court to that of Judge Joseph Fitch, alleging that "Judge Sullivan is prejudiced against the cause of the people in this case." Judge Sullivan, however, declined the authority of Justice Scanlan and insisted the trial proceed before him immediately. He had presided at the first trial of Walsh on a charge of having slain Adolph George Jr., a saloon owner, which resulted in an acquittal Saturday.

Walsh's second trial which opened today, was on a charge of having slain George Gast, a bartender, who was shot at the time George was killed in a dispute over placing an extra chair at a table. At the end of the first trial the verdict was the result of a perjury by several witnesses and formally asked for a grand jury investigation of jury tampering and perjury and said that he expected to prove that witnesses and jurors were illegally influenced. This jury will begin its work March 10.

ACCEPTANCE OF CABLE PLAN UP TO FRANCE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Acceptance by the powers represented in the international cable communication of the plan submitted at the commission's meeting yesterday by acting of the former German cables is now understood to depend largely upon France. The American plan is said today to have been generally acceptable to most members of the commission and the decision to refer it to the home governments was regarded as a formality.

The French representatives, however, were said not to be able to indicate what would be the attitude of their own government pointing out the complexity of the French process of handling such matters. Considerable delay is therefore expected. The American plan is expected to contemplate the division of the cables into five equal parts on the basis of their present commercial value. Where an exact division is not practicable, provision is made for the compensation of the power holding a deficient allotment at the monetary expenses of the others holding plus allotments. Also full authority is conferred for trading the parties to the agreement.

One interesting feature of the project is understood to be the allotment to Italy of the great cable running from Liberia to Brazil across the South Atlantic Ocean.

WEEKLY CROP AND WEATHER REPORT FOR GREENE COUNTY.

White Hall, March 7.—The weekly crop and weather report from this section of the weather bureau shows a continued satisfactory horticultural and agricultural condition. The former for the reason that here is not sufficient warm weather to start budding, and the temperature average arouses hope for no late freeze. The condition of winter wheat remains excellent. The farmers are fencing and doing other spring work and getting ready to sow oats. Some clover is in, but the bulk of clover will be harrowed in this month. More soy beans will be grown this year than ever before in Greene county. The ground is too wet for raking stalks, most of which was broken during the cold weather.

The White Hall Co-operative Mill and Elevator Company re-elected the directors Saturday and will continue the business, which is now in an improved condition. Farmers are never-failing observers of highway traffic. The new highway law provides a fine of ten dollars for a driver who fails to observe a stop sign at a railway crossing by coming to a stop until the way is known to be clear of trains or any other object propelled on rails. These stop signs have been erected between White Hall and Roodhouse for a sufficient length of time to demonstrate that drivers pay no heed, and it is indicated that there will be an object lesson made of some driver one of these fine spring days.

The temperature for the week averaged 31 degrees, the mean maximum being 42.8 and the mean minimum 19.4 degrees. The highest was 64 on the 6th and the lowest 8 on the 3rd. There were 3.5 inches of snow on the 1st that remained on the ground for two days. The total precipitation was 1.04 inches for the week, all of which fell on the 1st and included the snowfall of that date.

(By The Associated Press)

BIG SLASH MADE IN OVERLAND PRICES

A deep reduction in the prices of Overland and Willys-Knight cars has just been announced by officials of the Willys-Overland Co. The touring car which sold one year ago at $1,035 is now priced at $550. In 1916 the Overland sold for $615, so that the present price is $65 lower than that figure.

The Willys-Knight touring car is now quoted at $1,375, which means a total reduction of 46 per cent in the past 18 months. The prices for the various models of the Overland and Willys-Knight cars have been reduced in about the same proportion. The slashes indicate the general tendencies in the automobile world.

The witnesses were H. Raymond Hamilton, one of the three survivors and Anton Pizzi, a workman who said he was waiting on the opposite side of the track to board the bus.

What Fordson Owners Say

The man who can Talk With Authority is the man who has Used the FORDSON on his farm

H. M. Berryman, Franklin.

The Fordson is the handiest and cheapest tractor to operate. You can plow anywhere that you could use four horses. It is more economical. Working down wheat ground, I pulled a 16 disc with a 19 foot harrow behind, and would run a day and half on 13 gallons of Kerosene.

On the 24th of December I used my tractor to break down weeds on 20 acres of wheat stubble. The weeds were covered with ice and broke all to pieces. I hitched a long pole behind the tractor, and was only 2 1/2 hours breaking the 20 acres. I first intended to use horses but found they would walk in the weeds as they were high, and the ice frozen on them hurt the horses' legs. So I had to try the tractor and found the Fordson O. K. for the job.

John Brown, Alexander.

I think the Fordson is about as good a light tractor as built for the farm.

Harold Cockin, Alexander.

From what experience I had with this tractor and other makes, and the running condition our tractor was in when we put it away, and its handiness around jobs, must say I would buy another Fordson before I would buy any other. Will say they are the handiest and simplest tractor, with which I have had any experience.

JURY CHOSEN TO TRY PIRES FOR MURDER

TWELFTH MAN SELECTED LATE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

About Ninety Veniremen Examined By Attorneys—Opening Addresses to Be Made at This Morning's Session.

C. E. Rouland, Centerville, William Wentz, Moredosa, V. D. Wilson, Jacksonville, F. H. Curtis, Waverly, L. E. Sooy, Murrayville, Charles Sullivan, Murrayville, Joseph Bergschneider, Alexander, C. E. Keenan, Alexander, E. T. Rousey, Murrayville, Earl S. Sinclair, Litchberry, Earl Seymour, Franklin, James Westrope, Jacksonville, No. 7.

It was about 4:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the jury was selected in the trial of Ellsworth Pires, charged with the murder of James Gaddis. The examination of veniremen began at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Judge Norman Jones presiding, and continued thru that session of the court, again on Tuesday morning and the greater part of the afternoon. The jury is in charge of Deputy Sheriff Ben Andrews and Special Deputy Sam Jones.

The twelve men listed above represent various parts of the county and only one of them is resident in Jacksonville. The regular panel of 40 and the special venire of 35 was exhausted and a number of veniremen from another special panel of fifty were examined before the twelve were finally agreed upon.

State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson, who is conducting the prosecution unaided, examined the jurors for the state as he did on Monday. The state's attorney included questions as to the prospective juror's attitude toward capital punishment. John G. Friedmeyer of the defense conducted the examination of the venireman. No intimation was given as to the probable line of defense, the questions asked simply seeking to determine an unprejudiced state of mind with reference to the crime charged, and no special relationships either with the state's attorney or the sheriff.

Summons for the second special venire were served quite extensively in the Woodson and Murrayville precincts, so that for an hour during the afternoon when veniremen were questioned, they gave either Murrayville or Woodson as their place of residence. The state's attorney has a brother resident in Murrayville and the defense was very careful to learn whether any of the prospective jurors from Murrayville had relations or personal friendship with either the state's attorney or his brother.

Court will convene again at 9 o'clock this morning, when the opening statement on behalf of the state will be made by Mr. Robinson. It has not been announced as to who will outline the case for the defense, but it is assumed that William N. Haigrove, senior counsel for Pires will have that task.

Among men who were examined yesterday for jury and refused for one cause or another were the following:

HEDDING TO REMAIN AT ABINGDON

Business Men of Town Guarantee Money for Endowment and Purchase of Building for Officers of Bloomington and Rock Island Declined.

By decision of the board of trustees of Hedding college, that institution will remain at Abingdon in Knox county. Attractive offers had been made by Rock Island and Bloomington to move the college there. However, after going into the case thoroughly trustees of the college decided to accept the offer of the Abingdon chamber of commerce and to remain in that city.

The college needs some financial assistance to finish the present year and the commercial club of the city agreed to furnish this aid. Further, the club has entered into a contract to secure subscriptions of between $200,000 and $300,000 toward the endowment fund, and further to erect a new science hall and gymnasium. These agreements are contingent upon the raising of a $1,000,000 endowment fund for the college, and the central Illinois conference is pledged to this program.

It is interesting to note in this connection how cities these days are vying with each other in the effort to secure educational institutions. Rock Island offered $300,000 thru its chamber of commerce one half million dollars to be spent in building and a site estimated variously at worth from $50,000 to $250,000. The financial offer from Bloomington was also of a substantial kind, although as large as that made by Rock Island.

Rev. Marbach made a most practical address and made plain to the club members that now was the time to begin doing things for the work that would come to them later in life. Rev. Marbach stayed upon the words, "Now Own and Won," admonishing that now is the time to work, and to work is to own and that thru early preparation victory is won. The speaker talked in behalf of the drive which the state is now putting on for more strict and complete birth registration. PICTURE ON NEAR EAST IS SHOWN

Presented at High School Last Night—Shows Conditions in Armenia.

At the weekly showing of moving pictures at the high school last evening a reel, prepared by the near east relief association, was shown. While the picture depicted something of the terrible sufferings and the horrors of starvation which the peoples of the near east have experienced, it also featured the wonderful work which the American Relief societies have done. It showed the orphanages where thousands of little Armenian boys and girls had been cared for by American relief agencies and emphasized the real help that America's sympathy has meant.

The film was left at the school by Mrs. C. A. Larsen, a Red Cross nurse, who is in Jacksonville in the interest of the near east relief. Mrs. Larsen made a very interesting talk to the students at the assembly period yesterday morning. The talk, as well as the pictures, was purely educational and sought to place before the audience the true situation as it exists in the near east today. There was no solicitation of funds.

Principal B. F. Shafer received official notification yesterday from C. W. Whitten, of DeKalb, state manager of basketball tournaments, that the Jacksonville high school team is to go to the sectional tournament at Decatur this week. Rumors had been heard and newspapers had already announced that Jacksonville was to compete at Decatur but yesterday was the first official notification received at the high school office. Official announcement as to the team which Jacksonville will play has not yet been received as yet but it will probably come today.

An Optometrist is a specialist—This is the title of specialists. It is reasonable to presume that such delicate work as eye examination and eyeglass fitting is done best by a specialist. My work is confined to Optometry and my workshop engaged in only lens grinding and handling. My salesroom contains articles to meet every need of wearers of glasses. Wool Pool Returns Received.
R. L. Spears, J. F. Begsneider, E. J. Reynolds, A. H. Bartelheim, C. E. Criswell and C. C. Woods consigned their wool to the I. A. A. wool pool. The returns have been received and checks mailed to the consignors. The wool sold at a fair figure but the freight cut into the net returns heavily. A car was ordered for this shipment but not enough pooled to take advantage of the car load rates and consequently the shipment went forward by local freight.

Chapin Shipping Association Has a Good Year.
John Drake and James B. Anderson manager, have furnished the Farm Bureau office with a report of their first year's work. The association has 142 members. Fifty two cars were shipped last year, consisting of 23 cars of hogs, 8 of cattle, 2 of hogs, 2 of sheep. The actual cost of shipping per market weight was hogs, 60c; cattle, 48c; and sheep, 71c. The manager's commissions for the 32 cars totaled $650.75. After paying for rental of scales, insurance and books and postage the association starts in the second year with a net balance of $289.49.

Two Different Ideas of a Produce Exchange.
The meeting of the committee of ladies to formulate plans for a Produce Exchange revealed the fact that there are two distinct ideas of such an exchange.

The first is that of a public market in which each producer markets his own produce directly; the other idea contemplates a hired manager of everything by paid employees after the manner of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. No decision has been reached in regard to which idea will be the dominant one in the end.

The Foundation of Every Prosperous Business

RECENTLY the Chicago Journal of Commerce in an editorial discussion of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as an example of modern American business, said:

"Three years ago the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) which does business in eleven states, adopted a whole-some publicity policy, not only to derive the natural benefits of advertising its products, but to acquaint the public with intimate information regarding the Company and its affairs. The fair dealing, justice and equity of its practices, the business principles which rule its conduct, have been published far and wide throughout the territory it serves. Its policies were frankly disclosed to promote the welfare and to secure and hold the confidence and esteem of its stockholders, employees, and the public. The Company has paid for this publicity service just as any other industrial or mercantile enterprise pays for its advertising, and with most gratifying results."

"This publicity campaign has been dubbed 'Good-Will advertising'—a happy phrase. Good-Will is the foundation of every prosperous business. Good-Will always contributes to profits and can be secured only by fair dealing, fair prices, and a rigid adherence to business ethics. In all these the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a model of efficiency."

THIS appreciation of the purposes, practices, and achievements of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) so clearly expressed in the above quoted editorial is most gratifying to the Board of Directors of this Company, for it confirms their conviction that understanding and fairness go together. You cannot be fair unless you understand. You cannot understand unless you are willing to be fair.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is performing a highly essential service in a highly specialized branch of industry. It is doing something that has to be done in a way that entitles it to the approval of the public it serves.

It is to the interest of the public as well as the Company that the Company should give a frank account of itself and of the stewardship of its seven Directors.

Hence this sustained campaign.

S. W. NICHOLS IS STILL AT TUCSON, ARIZ.

Tucson, Ariz., March 3. — Dear Journal. We are nearing the end of our fifth week in this pleasant city and are expecting to leave it in a few days for a visit of a week or more in our old stamping ground at Tombstone, after which our plan is to proceed to Los Angeles for a stay of several weeks and our address there will be No. 308 West First Street, care H. E. Storrs.

This is truly a popular resort though hard times are keeping many away. A day or two ago I saw a man who came here six weeks ago all in with asthma and hardly able to get about at all. He was seemingly as well as any one and was indeed enthusiastic. The climate here is truly wonderful. While so many parts of the land are shivering with cold and storms of all kinds the weather here is generally bright and sunny with an atmosphere peculiarly clear and bracing. Then, too, the people have not at all learned the art of fleeing strangers and it is to be hoped they will not. In some parts of the country where places have been popular resorts they have bled transients till they killed the goose that laid the golden egg.

I opened a small account with the Arizona National bank, a fine institution which must have twenty or twenty-five employees, and is a prominent institution. Next day came a letter from the president informing me of his pleasure that I had opened the account and placing himself at my disposal. I gave him a trial and found he was all right. Daughter and I had three affidavits to make and he had his notary do it all free.

We had a pleasant call this morning from our esteemed friend, Dr. Willerton, who has just returned from a hunting trip with a party in old Mexico. He and his party went to Nogales a wide-awake city on the border and after passing the customs authorities and satisfying them they were not smuggling ammunition across the Mexican border and then when they crossed the line they had to satisfy the Mexican authorities that their mission was wholly peaceful and one only of pleasure.

And now let me say: Dr. Willerton's reputation for truthfulness and veracity is unchallenged and the statements he made are correct beyond question.

Securing a guide and joining other hunters till the party numbered 22 they penetrated the wilds of Mexico and rode a hundred miles beyond the border and a hundred miles almost from civilization. They were away some twelve and secured as trophies of the chase three deer, twenty cays, twenty foxes, three elk, four mountain sheep and eight wild hogs. One of the party was an old time hunter and he especially warned the younger ones not to kill a mountain ewe sheep but the rascals killed three and the old fellow swore roundly but could not restore to life the dead animals.

A part of the time the camp was by the ocean beach and there is where the doctor's stories showed like tales of the Arabian nights. He said when the tide was out they could go directly to the place left by the receding waves and scoop out a place as large and deep as a good sized dishpan and get plenty of good, fresh, cool drinking water.

Lack of a knowledge of this fact has cost several lives. At one time a scientific party of four were out with a pack burro and were lost right near this spot. Later three bodies of the party and the burro were found dead while the fourth was a raving maniac from thirst and hunger when in five minutes he could have dug down to plenty of good water. Then right in this very region, a few rods away from the cold water territory, they dug down a short distance and found quite warm water, and scooping out a place as big as a bathtub they took lots of ablutions. Then in order to save time they made a wall of sand perhaps two feet high and as large as a small pond, left an opening into it and guided a stream of hot water into it, closed the opening and had a fine warm water pool for bathing at any time.

Whales abounded in the locality and their spouting sounded like the roar of a gun. It was the doctor's theory that the creatures took in an immense lot of water containing many fish which they swallowed and blew the water into the air. The doctor said they were immense creatures and very interesting.

Fish could almost be had for the asking they were so plentiful. The party ate fish and game till they were surfeited. One fish they caught weighed well toward a hundred pounds. It supplied supper and breakfast for the 22 people and there was a great lot of it left.

Huge turtles abounded in the region but the company was without suitable means of getting them. They are often taken by the natives and used for food. The doctor saw some shells 24 by 36 inches in size, but was unable to get any live ones.

A part of the region visited was inhabited by native Mexicans about as primitive as can well be imagined. Their dwellings were often simply poles stuck up any way and covered with grass or weeds. Sometimes they took the tall cactus stalks, almost as large as old time fence rails, tied them together making a sort of shelter under which they existed while cooking was carried on in a primitive way in the open outside.

Occasionally a hut would have a little clay spread over the roof but that was all. Children went without any clothes at all until of a good size.

The natives were generally very kind and obliging to the hunters and supplied their wants cheerfully. One woman prepared them some sort of bread, or cake, about as thin as thick cloth and as large as a good sized handkerchief. Then they have a kind of cake made from cane juice and this dissolved and eaten with the cake made a passable meal.

They offered to pay her but she declined and they made her take two dollars and a half anyway.

In some of the territory visited fruit of nearly all kinds abound. They bought good oranges for eighty cents a hundred and plenty of them. Irrigation is necessary and they have all sorts of schemes for raising water. They have an endless rawhide rope and attached to it are cups of hide ingeniously made and resembling a chain pump.

With crude machinery propelled by mules or oxen they raise water to a considerable degree. One cattle ranch had a number of cattle on it and an old Mexican had a large bucket made of rawhide and attached to a contrivance drawn up by a mule and thus managed to supply the wants of the stock. This well was a hundred feet deep.

Farther up toward railroads the land is more taken up and vast quantities of early vegetables and fruits are produced for city markets. Every day great consignments enter this place brought by the Mexican branch of the Southern Pacific and transferred to the Los Angeles or El Paso market. This is raised largely by Chinamen, some of whom are very well to do.

HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS

Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Happy Results in Both Cases

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"Both of my sides swelled and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and the doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had this one chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope your Vegetable Compound will do them as much good as it did me."

Mrs. Wm. Lockman, 513 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y.—"I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not work. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and the capsules and prescription recommended. I am doing all my work and have gained twenty pounds. I am taking the medicines still, but I feel fine. You have my permission to use this letter for the good of others." — Mrs. MARY MARK, 37 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the commoner ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors, or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

AMERICAN "PEP" IS CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

Berlin People Trying to Imitate Americans Causes Great Increase in Street Accidents.

BERLIN, Mar. 7.—The fact that street accidents in Berlin have increased 600 percent since 1913 has led to the suggestion that one of the causes may be the apparent effort to put American "pep" into the city's everyday life. One newspaper writer asserts Berliners have become too busy to greet friends in passing, that the spirit of haste is disturbing the general routine, and that the citizens on the whole, are growing nervous. He deprecates "the attempt to make Berlin street life look like Forty-Second street and Broadway."

Official reports say most of the accidents are due to speeding automobiles and careless pedestrians. "who step off the sidewalks and walk the streets in every direction without once looking to see if they are in the way of vehicular traffic."

There is no ordinance regulating pedestrian traffic. Even at the more crowded intersections the people cross the streets at will, taking their chances with the automobiles, street cars, omnibuses, trucks, and horse cabs.

There are no traffic policemen in the Teuton metropolis, but it has been decided to establish such a force. In the meantime the "Security police" are doing this duty.

The bicycle habit is very popular with all classes, and particularly with the police, who ride in squad formation. It is not uncommon to see a man rigged out in top hat and evening clothes riding his "bike" to the theatre.

The title of this remarkable film is, "I Believe."

FIND IT IN BOOKS

New editions to the Public Library: Lockart, L. B. American lubricants, from the standpoint of the consumer. This book is a revised and enlarged edition written by a consulting and analytical chemist and put up by the Chemical Publishing Co., of Easton, Pa. The purpose of this book is to aid the user in intelligent selection of oils and greases and the point of view is that of the user rather than the refiner. It deals with the field production of crude petroleum, of its refining and distillation and the products; of the different motor oils for automobiles, engines in tractors and aeroplanes, and dynamos and all motors. It gives the methods of testing and analyzing all greases and oils and the standard government specifications for lubricants, for transmission oils, compressor oils, light machine oils, turbine oils, cutting oils, etc., also the specifications for boiler compounds, fuel oil, kerosene, gasoline, greases and graphite. It should be of interest to every mechanic and every owner of an automobile.

Roosevelt, Kermit, Quentin Roosevelt; a sketch with letters. This book is a fit memorial to the "Young Eagle" as revealed in his own letters and writings, largely those written from the training camps and from France before he died in his final flight in France during the Great War.

From his childhood he had two decided bents, a taste for mechanics, which made the air service especially attractive to him, and a strong love for all literature and for writing which began to develop when he was a small boy in boarding school. Besides many spirited and graphic letters, this volume contains early specimens of his writings in prose and verse which show how marked was his literary gift.

Chappell, George S. (Walter E. Traprock, pseud.) Cruise of the Kawa. This book is a burlesque on the South Sea school of writers and the lure with which they have so thickly invested the islands. The discovery of Filbert islands, so named because of the extraordinary number of nuts found there, is thrillingly related, and the life of the islands, their fauna and flora, their wonderful color, smells and sounds are described, also the marital relations of the author and his two companions.

There is even a chapter on the unique fatu-liva bird that lays the square eggs. Much of the delightful information given in South Sea books from the days of Jack London to our own is little short of sweet sentimental rubbish dished out to convince those who must stay at home that their preconceived ideas about the South Sea islands are not unlike the reality. The book is not only amusing in itself but its publication will curb the absurdities of the South Sea school of writers, who were rapidly transforming the South Seas and the islands of the Pacific from an earthly paradise into the most author-ridden section of the globe. The book is altogether the most thrilling and delightful book of the past three months.

Paine, Albert Bigelow. Car that went abroad. This book tells the story of a small family that went gypsying through parts of Europe before the war. The vine-lined highways of France, the cherry blossomed woods of the parts of Germany, the high trails of Switzerland, offered welcome while the quaint villages and old cities and rolling hills beckoned to the motor nomads and the interest of the reader is retained throughout the entire book. It is written in the author's usual charming style and illustrated.

Butler Brothers, Butler Way Window trimmer. This is a book written especially for the busy retailer who has to do his own window dressing. The directions are simple and in detail, the materials that may be used are inexpensive and available to all. The book contains illustrations and directions for the decorating of windows from "swat the fly" to the 4th of July, from millinery to garden tools, including all the holidays, and celebrations for the entire year and each season also. This book is now in the Public Library and will be a great help to merchants who know the value of window advertising.

Robinson, James Harvey. The Mind in the Making. The author of this in the well known historical student and writer but is more interested in the future than in the past but he studies the past for the sake of the future. His chief attention has been directed not to popes and wars, but to the rise and fall of ideas, beliefs and opinions. It is the past of the human mind that he treats in this book with a view to promoting its freedom and further expansion. He makes plain the historical reasons for our intellectual bondage, and points the way of escape and the consequent lightening of the world's burden of stupidity, blindness and threatening of disaster. The mind of man is evidently still in the making, and, historically viewed, has as yet realized but few of the possibilities before it. The book deals with what H. G. Wells calls "the race between education and catastrophe."

Fueto, Salvatore & Beyer, Barnett J. Caruso and the Art of Singing—This book is a wonderful tribute to Caruso and should be read by all who are interested in the art of singing or at all interested in the musical world. It includes Caruso's methods of breathing and producing tones, his vocal exercises and his views on vocal technique, his ideals of singing as well as his practical advice to singers. Salvatore Fueto, the main author was Caruso's coach and accompanist and a close friend.

VETERANS FOREIGN WAR NEWS NOTES

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—This has been a very active sector in the national fight for the federal adjusted compensation legislation, with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion acting on the "yes" side of the question and the members of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce leading the "no" contingent. First the directors of the Pittsburgh Chamber, and a special investigating committee, voted in favor of the adjusted compensation legislation. Then a mass meeting of members was held and the verdict was "no."

Then the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, through their county councils got busy and put over several statements, not particularly against the action taken in opposition to "alleged impugnations of patriotism" on the part of the members of the Chamber, one of whom made the remark that the Boy Scouts ought to have a bonus if the soldiers received one. Next, the Pittsburgh City Council passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the legislation and protesting the alleged insults. Meanwhile the veterans had challenged Senator Pepper to a joint debate on the subject and he had declined.

Robert G. Woodside, Commander in Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, whose home is here has taken a leading part in the battle and promises that the issue will be fought through "if it takes all summer." The next move will probably be a referendum of every member of the Chamber, and some sort of public vote throughout the city, put on by the veterans' organizations or by a joint committee representing also the Chamber of Commerce.

CHICAGO, Ill.—The American Federation of Labor is in favor of adjusted compensation for ex-service men, according to a letter received here by the Veterans of Foreign Wars from Samuel Gompers, president of the labor organization. He writes as follows: "You state that you have read in the newspapers that the officers of the American Federation of Labor had entrusted to Secretary Mellon against the adjusted compensation bill now before Congress. There is not a word of truth in this statement. The American Federation of Labor is in favor of adjusted compensation for ex-service men, and is supporting the bill now in congress. It is only the few who are opposed to the adjusted compensation through a sales tax."

"I personally wrote a letter to the Ways and Means Committee asking the passage of what you term a bonus bill, but opposing the raising of a duty through a sales tax. If such a law were enacted, it would simply be taking the money out of one pocket and putting it into another, as the soldiers would have to pay an increased cost for everything purchased. You should carefully look into the question of the sales tax before passing judgment on those who oppose it. No man believes more than I in the justice of adjusted compensation for former service men, but the people of our country, who also are in favor of adjusted compensation, object to the sales tax and you undoubtedly will also if you study the question thoroughly."

SEATTLE, WASH.—The Veterans in District Number Eleven, subject to the April election.

S. B. JONES.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for commissioner in Road District No. 1, subject to the April election.

ans of Foreign Wars have asked President Harding, who is to make a trip to Seattle this summer, to attend their national encampment to be held here August 14-19. An effort is being made to have the Pacific Fleet here at that time, and to put on a naval review and regatta, as a part of the encampment program. The Seattle Chamber of Commerce is lending its support to the completion of the encampment plans and is sending to the 1,000 posts of the Organization literature describing the Pacific Northwest. Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy and other national men who have been active in the interests of the ex-service men, are among those to whom invitations are being sent.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The passage by the senate of the Bureau bill for the retirement of disabled emergency officers is another victory for the veterans' organization that have been working for the interests of the disabled. The bill allows retirement on three-fourths pay of grade to emergency officers who suffered disability greater than 30 percent during their World War service. The vote in the senate was 50 to 14, and representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here predict an even larger majority in the House where the bill is expected to have early consideration.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A national Committee of Five Hundred composed of volunteers in the Veterans of Foreign Wars pledged to undertake the establishment of new posts, recruiting more members and extending the organization, was started here a month ago by Melvin Ryder, Chief of Staff and now has more than the required number of members. So many volunteers are sending in their names and pledge cards that it has been decided to have 1,000 members of the Committee instead of 500. The organization is making gains in membership each month, despite unfavorable business conditions in many sections.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—More Chambers of Commerce are voting in favor of the adjusted compensation legislation now before congress, according to National Headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Recent chambers that have taken favorable action include Dubuque, Iowa, Turtle Creek, Pa., Hutchinson, Kansas, Kansas City, Kansas, Brighton, N. J., Vineland, N. J. and Los Angeles, Calif.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—New posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are being organized at Huntsville, Ala., Hot Springs, S. D., Peconic, Ill., Fresno and Santa Cruz, Calif., Warren, Ark., Springfield, Mo., Wilson, Ark., Chippawa Falls, Wisconsin, Kent, Ohio, and Port Jarvis, N. Y.

MURRAYVILLE NEAR EAST
RELIEF "EGG SUNDAY"

Mrs. Pearl Larson, a returned Near East Relief worker, who spent two years in famine relief work and who has been in Morgan county for the last week, is quite happy over the idea hatched at Murrayville. With money scarce but eggs plentiful a group of Murrayville citizens originated the idea of giving all the eggs gathered on March 1 as their offering to help feed the 110,000 helpless orphans in the Near East Relief orphanages and hospitals.

Mr. J. E. Thompson is to act as "Egg Chairman" and the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church will assist in collecting and selling the eggs which are brought to town. Under this novel plan the eggs will be turned into cash and the check will be sent through the county treasurer, Mr. E. E. Crabtree, Jacksonville, to the state and national Near East Relief headquarters. Sunday, March 12 has been proclaimed as "Egg Sunday" at the M. E. church.

Friends of the Near East Relief will be interested in knowing that practically no money is now on hand in Jacksonville, the need being so great that as soon as possible the cash is sent overseas. The last draft sent was for $400.00, sent Monday, March 7.

Citizens or communities in Morgan county having gifts for Near East Relief should send such as soon as possible, for money means life; refusal, or even delay, means death.

Ashland, March 7.—Saturday afternoon the board of control and literary committees met in Virginia to make plans for the Cass County meet to be held some time this spring.

The official report came Saturday and Miss Vetsmier's average was 93.7 per cent. Three of her papers were perfect, she having received 100 per cent in surgical, nursing ethics and dietetics. The young lady graduated from St. John's Hospital Training school last October and after a three months' post-graduate course in anaesthetics in the obstetrical department of that place.

WHITE HOUSE DOG
WRITES LETTER

Airedale Dog Laddie Tells Tiger Stage Dog of Life at the White House—Says Dog Must Just Act Natural.

Boston, March 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—A dog's view of life in the White House is given in a letter ostensibly written by "Laddie Boy," President Harding's Airedale terrier, to "Tiger," a stage dog, which appeared in the current issue of the National Geographic Magazine. The President sent the letter, which was in reply to one from "Tiger," to Joe Mitchell Chapple, editor of the magazine.

"Laddie Boy has made reply," President Harding wrote, "and I am sending you a copy herewith for your information, since you were the bearer of Tiger's message."

After telling of a "thrill that wagged my stub tail violently when I read of the part you are playing," giving to the public a demonstration of the fidelity which characterizes our lives."

"Laddie Boy's" letter says: "Every dog plays his part well when he is merely his natural self, but unhappily many a dog is more or less spoiled by his environment and associations. I imagine I am spoiled some myself. So many people express a wish to see me and I shake hands with so many callers at the Executive Mansion that I fear there are some people who will suspect me of political inclinations—from what I see of politics I am sure I have no such aspirations."

"Of course it is exceedingly interesting and worth while to be in the center of so many activities of great importance, but there is an air of earnestness and responsibility about it which I can see in my Chief that I often long for the good old days back home."

"Sometimes the Chief acts as though he would like to sit down when he and I can be alone, and I can look at him with sympathetic eyes and he fixes his gaze on me in a grateful sort of way, as much as to say, 'Well, Laddie Boy you and I are real friends, and we will favor each other.'"

"When the Chief looks at me this way, I know that he feels that I will never find fault with him, no matter what he does, and that I will never be ungrateful nor unfaithful."

"I realize that a dog's life is limited in years, but it is, after all a wonderful life to live. I can believe we leave our impress on our human associates. I suppose, because of my temporary assignment to the White House, you attribute to me greater knowledge than I can really claim to possess. I am only 18 months old and I do not know many other dogs. I have heard the Chief talk about some of his dog friends and I know that he would be known as the friend of good dogs."

"Say, talk about fellowship—me for the company of a small boy who has been taught never to be cruel to animals. That's the association for play."

"I realize the heart and brightness the spirit. Still, there are a lot of grown-ups whom it is most agreeable to associate with."

Miss Falls for Him.

"When I came to the White House the Mistress was a rather cold shoulder. I feared that afterward it was because she did not want to become attached to me and excessively grieved in case our association had to be severed. Since then she has 'fallen' for me to beat the band. She lets me come to the private dining-room now and then, and I can coax morsels from the table a whole lot more effectively than a lot of office-seekers can appeal for jobs. But I mustn't talk about these things, for fear I will be giving away some of the White House secrets."

"I have no doubt you will do a lot of good. If you can only have the realization that you are helping to establish a more kindly consideration of the animal life of which we are a part and you can impress your audiences with the beauty of the friendship of dogs for human associates who treat them becomingly, and instill in human lives some of the honesty which characterizes the lives we dogs live, you will find a compensation in the good you have done which will surpass any other experiences in your life."

The letter says there is no cat to play with at the White House and adds:

"I do not think I am sorry thereof. There isn't much fun in pursuing and making war on some other quadruped as some of our forebears seem to think. It is really fine to dwell in tranquility."

"Laddie Boy" signs himself, "Yours, with a cordial wag, a friendly sniff and a joyous greeting."
